Pharmacological and Pharmaceutical Sciences

Auburn University

The Department of Pharmacal Sciences at Auburn University's Harrison School of Pharmacy invites applications for multiple 12-month tenure-track faculty positions in Pharmacological and Pharmaceutical Sciences. Individuals with expertise in cardiovascular disease, cancer, neuroscience, infectious disease, cellular signaling, synthetic medicinal chemistry, pharmacognosy/natural products chemistry, pharmacokinetics/drug metabolism, or pharmaceuticals/drug formulation/drug delivery are of particular interest. These positions offer the opportunity to join an expanding enterprise in research in pharmaceutical and biomedical sciences. The School has recently received new funding and opportunities for research enhancement. Auburn University has a new research park on campus with drug development targeted as a potential focus. The research park offers opportunities for technology transfer and entrepreneurial incubation. Opportunities for collaboration are present within the School of Pharmacy as well as with faculty throughout the University, including those in the College of Veterinary Medicine, the College of Engineering and the College of Sciences and Mathematics.

Successful candidates are expected to:

- Actively participate in the teaching mission of the Harrison School of Pharmacy at the graduate (M.S., Ph.D.) and professional (Pharm.D.) levels;
- Develop and/or maintain a sustainable, extramurally-funded research program;
- Be involved in collaborative research programs;
- Demonstrate a high level of scholarly activity, as evidenced by quality publications in peer-reviewed scientific journals and active participation in professional societies; and
- Contribute to Department, School and University service activities.

Applicants must have a demonstrated interest in education of health professionals and graduate students. They must have a Ph.D. or equivalent degree, postdoctoral training and demonstrated research abilities. A professional degree in pharmacy is desirable but not essential. The successful candidate must meet eligibility requirements to work in the U.S. at the time the appointment is scheduled to begin and continue working legally for the proposed term of employment. Excellent communication skills are required. Review of applications will begin July 1, 2011 and will continue until the positions are filled. Candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, statements of research and teaching interests, as well as the names and addresses (include e-mail address and phone number) of 3-5 references.

Preferably, applications should be submitted electronically to Ms. Marcie Tucker, mst0007@auburn.edu or they may be faxed to 334-844-8331.
